Mitchell J. Young is an Associate with Pannone Lopes Devereaux & O’Gara LLC and a member of the firm’s Alternative Dispute Resolution and Special Masterships Teams. He concentrates his practice in correctional healthcare reform and compliance and works with the firm’s Special Mastership on behalf of the United States District Court for the Eastern District of California. Attorney Young is responsible for working with a team to monitor the implementation of mandatory mental health screening, diagnosis and treatment of the approximately 35,000 mentally ill prisoners throughout the California prison system.

Attorney Young is also an experienced litigator who has handled general and complex injury cases, including catastrophic injury, traumatic brain injury, and wrongful death.

Prior to joining PLDO, Attorney Young worked for a full-service law firm in the greater Providence area, where he routinely appeared in Rhode Island and Massachusetts courts. While in law school, he interned at the Rhode Island Department of Administration and Rhode Island Office of Regulatory Reform.

Attorney Young earned his Juris Doctor degree from Roger Williams University School of Law and his Bachelor’s degree in Criminology, cum laude, from West Virginia University. He is admitted to practice in Rhode Island and Massachusetts.
